Andover, NJ – February 2016

Announcing an eCommerce website to buy M83528 Mil-Spec Connector Gaskets!

You can purchase the most commonly required connector gaskets for the military and commercial markets. All gaskets are die-cut and available in four different conductive materials:

- silver-plated, copper-filled silicone
- silver-plated, aluminum-filled silicone
- silver-plated, copper-filled fluorosilicone
- silver-plated, aluminum-filled fluorosilicone

There are sizes to fit every application and custom sizes are available upon request.

Free shipping is offered (within two business days) in the continental U.S.

Customers can also conveniently download STP, 2- and 3-D PDF, and DXF files of the gaskets.

QPL silicone sheets, in the same conductive materials as our gaskets, will be added in the future, as well as expanding the current line of gaskets.
